The Newsletter of the Westtown-Goshen Rotary Club

September 22, 2009

Jocularly Was A Success – Indeed both Dixie Peters and Ed Olsavicky made the evening of Thursday, September 17th a great night of Rotary togetherness. We-Go thanks you for making the night a special fun event. Everyone seemed pleased with the park-like location and the food and drink. Hopefully, we can get together again for a night of jocularly! It might be a good idea next time to have a member drive your editor to the site rather than having him maneuvering his car. He could be dangerous.

Goose Creek Cleanup on Saturday, September 26th – At 7:30 a.m. Dave Moldoff needs ten volunteers to clean the weeds and debris from Goose Creek. He needs whackers, rakes, machetes, and strong bodies. This volunteer help is essential if we want the race course to be in tip-top condition. Please read Dave's email regarding other needs for the Duck Race. We-Go needs the final list for prizes and sponsors by this Thursday.

Duck Race Meeting on Thursday – We-Go will meet to discuss details for our October 3 DUCK RACE. We need to review several critical matters concerning the event. Our sale of duck certificates is rather low so far and needs major improvement if we are to approach our efforts of last year. Please read the red alert from Seth regarding our dilemma. We need additional duck ticket sales!!!!

2010 GSE Team Leader Needed – District 7450 seeks a Rotarian team leader to lead a four-member GSE to visit Athens, Greece area for four weeks in April. If interested, please see Bob Bielski. Applications are due by October 1.

Rotarians Asked to Address Literacy Needs – RI President John Kenny has identified illiteracy as a major area in which Rotarians can provide service to those who cannot read or write. In an average community in the Philadelphia region, 20 percent of adults have difficulty reading. Rotarians can help. This year each Club is asked to consider literacy projects both at home and abroad. Clubs that complete literacy projects are eligible to receive a District or Zone Literacy Award. Should We-Go participate?

2010 District 7450 Conference – District Governor Al Marland has announced that the District Conference will be on a cruise ship to Bermuda in May of next year. The cruise will cover six days and 5 nights aboard the Royal Caribbean's Explorer of the Seas.
